

Ann is a former educator who took up her pen (or to be more exact, her keyboard) in 2015 and began a second career as a writer. Her award-winning marine articles have appeared in All at Sea, Chesapeake Style, and Chesapeake Bay Magazine, earning her four Boating Writers International Awards. A camping enthusiast and lover of all things vintage, she is also the creator of Motorhome Magazine's "Classic Ride" column. A scuba divemaster, avid sailor, and a private pilot, she believes it is never too late to learn something new. She and husband Eric live on Virginia's Northern Neck in an 1886 farmhouse they restored, and sail their Morgan, Avalon, on the Rappahannock River and beyond.
